Repairs to roof and pointing

10 / 10

Abri built a fine extension on my house two years ago. I recently lost some ridge tiles which, together with premature spalling of cement pointing on the edge of the roof, was probably the result of a faulty batch of cement. Notwithstanding the time elapsed and the potential for denying liability, Abri carried out full repairs at no charge to myself. Quite incredible in my view and a standard of service that is very rare these days. Customer in Leatherhead, 11 January 2012
