Great guys, would definitely recommend them. Customer in Banstead, 6 October 2010

Replace concrete lintel with steel lintel 10 / 10
Having discovered a crack in a structural concrete lintel on our house we were concerned that the work should be done by a professional firm and McFarlanes were able to give me the comfort that they had the appropriate skills, experience and ability to undertake the work. They delivered in a short time frame and dealt with all of the building control requirements.
I can say that I am very happy with the results and would recommend this company.
