Conservatory 9 / 10

They were very good doing the job but there were some things they hadn't done, they came back in October which made my son angry. Customer in , 18 September 2011

Reply from Trader: We went back to the job to check out a leak, however, the leak was coming from her roof, so in good faith we repaired the roof free of charge, as a good will gesture, we also built a ramp free, and fitted a water butt attached to a down pipe. Communication between the son and me I felt broke down when I refused to put filler in the skirting board which i felt was not my job. We always strive to ensure customer satisfaction at all times , hence my very good feedback on my webpage.
