Arrived at 8am and started work directly and carried on until job was finished. Very reliable. Customer in Bognor Regis, 20 January 2012

Overhaul of central heating system, including cleaning system, creating an easy to use drainage outlet, fitting new pump, air valves and room thermostat. Sundry house jobs as required.

After the breakdown of my one year old boiler I need reliable plumbing work to overhaul the system. I asked PC Installations as I had been so pleased with their work on my kitchen installation in May 2011 and I felt I could trust them. Paul was able to suggest modifications to my system which included a drainage system behind the kitchen units to the front of the house. Neat, invisible work and very practical. He also suggested automatic radiator bleed valves and a 'mobile' room thermostat, a new cost effective but good quality pump and air valves, and a magna clean filter. The result is amazing, I have a uniformly warm house and all the noisy gurgles have gone. I also have peace of mind that I can drain the system if ever necessary. PC Installations were also flexible to include other house jobs as required. It was excellent work which I have much appreciated and also very good value compared to former quotes. No mess either! Thank you Customer in Chichester, 10 January 2012

Fitted new kitchen

10 / 10

I found PC Installations via checkatrade. I had already had designs for my kitchen from Benchmark. Paul was able to see where these could be radically improved to maximise use of space and enhance the overall look. He started the work on time and was on site every day from 7.30am until the work was done (4 weeks). The work involved fitting the new kitchen, new electrics, plumbing, tiling and laying a new laminate floor. There was some replastering which was done by an excellent plasterer he recommended. Paul was externally tidy, clearing up every day and doing his best to minimise disruption. I was anxious that I employed someone who would be reliable, tidy and most of all very skilled to produce a first class finish, and I honestly believe I could not have found a better team than

Paul and Ian. I would use them again and I would have no hesitation in recommending them unreservedly Customer in Bognor Regis, 30 November 2011
