Landscaping garden and building driveway

10 / 10

As we live on a hill we needed our front garden landscaped and also our driveway paved. Paul took on the work and together we designed the garden, deciding to build retaining walls for the flower beds and lawn and laying Indian sandstone pathways. Paul carried out the work extremely well and has a flexible, pleasant approach. He is courteous, punctual and very hard working, sometimes in bad weather, and is able to understand and interpret design elements and contribute to ideas on planting, layout and materials. He worked to budget and cleared up well every day. We are very pleased with the work Paul has done for us in transforming our garden and drive, and would certainly recommend him to anyone else. Customer in Brighton, 20 May 2012

Very easy process. Quick quote. Communicative. Flexible. Job completed to very high order. Well worth our investment. Paul is very easy to work with. Would recommend with no hesitation. He was also very kind to our dog who liked to be in the garden whilst Paul completed his work. Customer in Brighton, 27 February 2012

Paul gave us helpful suggestions about design before he started, he worked to an extremely high standard throughout, was punctual and kept us informed about progress. The site was kept tidy and he was always courteous and pleasant to deal with. Very pleased with the finished result and recommend him fully. I intend to ask him to quote for further work next year. Customer in Brighton, 20 October 2011

Transforming a rockery garden into a large lawn area with decking area leading out from conservatory

After years of having no garden to speak of (consisted of rockery, as we live on a hill). After becoming grandparents we wanted a lawn for the children so that they were able to play outside. We also thought it would be nice to have a decking area outside of our conservatory to enjoy the views around us. Paul worked single handedly and transformed our garden to exactly our expectations (and more!). His work is outstanding and competitively priced. We would thoroughly recommend Paul for any landscaping work required - thank you Paul we love our new garden!! Customer in Brighton, 13 July 2011
