Built-in wardrobes and cupboards in bedroom

9.3 / 10

We picked Steve and Tony to do the built-in furniture in our bedroom for several reasons:

- 1) Clear ideas of what would and wouldn't work in the room
 - 2) Good communication throughout the project
 - 3) Recommendation from a friend and the chance to view an example of their work before we committed to the job

Remove wall and refit kitchen (replacing RSJ and replacing window)

10 / 10

Steve and Tony were known to us from a relative, who they had previously done work for. So we already knew their work was to a very high standard... They didn't disappoint. This was not a trivial job (in my layman's opinion, anyway). The mains electricity needed to be moved, Velux windows fitted, a new window frame made and fitted, a door bricked-up. Not to mention all of the tasks that need to be done when taking out an internal load-bearing wall. Initially they were able to give some invaluable advise and ideas on the best way to tackle the job - which were then used to create a detailed plan. We were then given a detailed breakdown of the work and associated pricing, and given the opportunity to make adjustments to kitchen designs and fittings. Once everything was agreed, the work started when they said it would. It's never easy being without a kitchen ? especially with a two month old baby ? but a combination of realistic time lines and excellent communication meant that we were never let down by any broken promises. We planned to be without a kitchen for the specified time, and we were moving back in on the exact day we'd planned. Ultimately it all boils down to the finished article. Sitting here in our beautiful new kitchen I can find nothing to fault it: The workmanship is second-to-none, it looks great, and it's practical! We now have the kitchen that we wished for. We would have absolutely no hesitation in recommending Roberts and Whitehorn. Thank you, from some very happy customers. Customer in Lewes, 16 December 2011
