Additional two sockets needed to be placed on the other side of wall 10 / 10

The Electrician - Richard had done an excellent job on the wiring of the two sockets in my kitchen. The new sockets are working well and the wiring route looks neat and clean. I am satisfied with the work he has done today as well as his friendly services. Thank you very much! Customer in Basingstoke, 8 February 2012

Repaired faulty ring main as tripping downstairs sockets. 10 / 10

Troubleshooting and located faulty cable. Resolved and fixed the problem. Returning next week to carry out additional work. Highly recommended. 100% happy with the work and Electrician. Customer in Reading, 21 January 2012

Installation of electric cooker and wiring. 9.5 / 10

Very professional in his work also friendly and kept me in the picture as work progressed. I would recommend. Customer in Bracknell, 6 January 2012

I have some training in electrical matters and felt RPM were knowledgeable and well qualified. They were more than willing to discuss their work with me on a technical level and advise on that part of the rewiring that I undertook. I was amazed that they appeared happy to work like this. It is my view, as another self employed technical person, that the prices charged undervalued their qualifications and work. Customer in Reading, 30 March 2011
