Repair leaking cistern for inbuilt toilet

10 / 10

Arrived promptly after initial phone call. Friendly and professional manner. Quickly identified problem and explained the options. Organised parts needed and repaired the cistern, despite being inbuilt into bathroom fixtures and very awkward to get at. Invoice very reasonable for both spare parts and labour. Would thoroughly recommend this company and will use them again if needed. Customer in Bognor Regis, 16 March 2012

No problems at all, arrived on time completed the job without any fuss. Customer in Bognor Regis, 23 January 2012

10 / 10

Thank goodness for these guys. No one trustworthy was willing to touch my Halstead boiler until these guys came along. I seriously thought that I was going to have to buy a new boiler. Mr Wickeneden came along and spent three hours working on the boiler, and charged next to nothing. A week later the boiler started making a noise again, it turned out to be another part of the boiler that was breaking down. This new issue was fixed and the boiler has been working without any problem for the last few weeks. He has saved me a small fortune. Thank you. Customer in Chichester, 8 December 2011

Repair to leaking radiator

10 / 10

Excellent in every way. They were able to attend the day after I called them, and worked quickly and without problems. Left the place clean and without any evidence of their visit. Priced at a very reasonable rate and as quoted. Will certainly be back to them first if we need any more work, and would definitely recommend them Customer in Chichester, 17 November 2011

Removal of old boiler and installation of a new one.

10 / 10

I cannot fault the workmanship of the employee who replaced my aging boiler. Jon was polite and courteous at all times and the price quoted at the start was the price paid when I was satisfied that the job was complete. Any inevitable mess that was made removing the old boiler was "made good" and disruption was kept to a minimum. Jon also kept me informed at all times of the work that was going on. I would highly recommend this company and I wouldn't hesitate to use S. Wickenden and Sons again. Customer in Bognor Regis, 12 September 2011
