Removal of two chimney breasts. Removal and fitting of new kitchen. 10 / 10

Taylor Property Services were a real find. We first asked them to remove a chimney breast for us when the original builder we had let us down. They fitted in with the other work we had planned and liaised with the other trades. They took great care to keep the dust and mess to a minimum. We then at very short notice asked them to help with supplying and fitting a new kitchen. The marvellous Sigi came to fit the kitchen. Nothing was ever too much trouble for him; he consulted us all the time and was so patient if we decided we wanted to change anything. I am absolutely delighted with the fitting of the kitchen. I would have no hesitation in recommending TPS, they were a pleasure to deal with, friendly, helpful and reliable everything you want from a good builder. Customer in Brighton, 7 March 2012

Kitchen Refurbishment including wall insulation, new windows, replacement roof, rooflight and new kitchen. 10 / 10

I would recommend Taylor Property Services. They were efficient, well organised, easy to work with and completed the build ahead of schedule. When planning the kitchen layout and design they provided valuable advice and recommendations. Neil provided a sterling service sorting out problems with our antiquated electric and no problem was too much. Ziggy and the plasterers did a brilliant job of fitting the kitchen. They turned up on time every day and were careful not to make any mess. I'm just about to start my next renovation and look forward to working with them again. Thank You! Customer in Hove, 10 February 2012

We would definitely recommend Taylor Property Services. They are extremely professional, reliable, courteous and flexible. Richard was always on the other end of the phone and he, Neil and Siggy organised their team of plumber, plasterers and decorators in a highly efficient manner. Even when our Victorian house presented a few unexpected problems these were dealt with immediately and with Richard's typical 'nothing is ever a problem' attitude. Amazingly the work was still completed within the scheduled time. Siggy fitted our new kitchen very competently and he and Paul the plumber offered useful suggestions and advice when needed as did Richard and Neil. Roman the decorator did a brilliant and professional job. The whole team were very hardworking and reassuring and it did not feel intrusive having them in our home. We are really pleased with the outcome which has actually exceeded our expectations. Thank you!
