Fitting mirrors to a large hallway from floor to ceiling. 0.3 / 10
 This company measured everything incorrectly, yet took payment up front. They did not complete the work and have still asked for more money. The relationship became very strained, making me feel very uncomfortable. Customer in Worcester Park, 1 October 2009

Reply from Trader: We are very disappointed with this feedback. We did make an error in the measurements but we had every intention to rectify this but the customer ended the relationship. She does not want us back yet has still to settle the final invoice.
