When carpet dried you could still see dirty patches and drink stains. I contacted the company but they are not responding to my complaint. No complaint procedures. Customer in London, 3 September 2017

Reply from Trader: We are sorry to receive this feedback from the customer as do not feel this is a fair reflection of the event. We informed the customer before the start of works that the results would be limited due to heavy soiling on white carpet. However, the customer was happy to go ahead with this. We feel that we got the carpet to a high standard with the challenges we had. Please continue to read our other reviews for further reflection of our work and customer satisfaction.
